The Carmel Pine Cone

54th Year — No. 48 PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA 93921 Nov. 28, 1968 26 Pages PRICE, 15 CENTS

EVERYBODY'S IN THE ACT — A smattering of objects created by the 39 Craftsmen who are bringing Christmas are displayed in this photograph by Roger Fremier. We're not sure about whether the merry-go-round horse is for sale, but Joan Snow, the model, does not go with any purchase.

Arts and Crafts Show Dec. 6, 7, 8 At La Playa Hotel

Today's Pine Cone carries an eight-page insert that leaves this rather prosaic reporter at a loss for words to properly describe the effort.

Sponsored by the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival of Monterey County, the insert was produced by a group calling itself "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" who are holding a three-day arts and crafts show at the La Playa Hotel on Dec. 6, 7 and 8.

The layout, art work and composition is truly unique in its artistic quality, interest and eye appeal.

Would that we might, in the Pine Cone, print such an outstanding effort each week.

Joan Snow of Carmel, an artist with a wide reputation for her versatility, designed the entire production, did the layout for the eight pages, and in addition made many of the line drawings, borders and other fancy work that sets this insert so far apart from others of its type.

The photographs throughout the insert are the work of the young Carmel photographer Roger Fremier.

Fremier not only took the photos, processed them and did the descriptions accompanying the print, but found time to help Joan Snow with publicity for the festival.

Coordinator for the La Playa display as well as contacting the advertisers in the "39 Craftsmen" supplement in the Pine Cone was Robert Grabowski, president of the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival, and for nine years operator of a crafts shop on Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey.

The Carmel Business Association has been one of the most enthusiastic backers of the "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" effort at the La Playa Hotel.

The organization of Carmel businessmen, realizing that the "39 Craftsmen" represents everything artistic that the community stands for, has encouraged the efforts of these artists and craftsmen to the fullest extent.

Since the December display of arts and crafts has received statewide publicity, it is anticipated that many people will come to Carmel to see the display at the La Playa, and city merchants will benefit from the influx.

Arts and crafts on display will be for sale, and since prices start at a dollar, there will be something for everyone.

This is the third annual affair sponsored by Arts and Crafts Festival, and the group believes this type of money-raising affair can be the means to bring financial support to other cultural activities, since the Arts and Crafts Festival group is a non-profit organization.

Any money accruing from the "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" display will be used to sponsor the 1969 Festival of Fine Arts.

The display of professional craftsmen from all over the state will begin Friday night, Dec. 6 with a wine preview from 6-9 p.m., and door prizes will be given.

On Saturday and Sunday, the exhibits and booths will be open from noon until 10 p.m., and the public is invited to atend these two days at no charge.

Fund Drive for Sunset Will Finance Future Improvements

By Gunnar Norberg

Key proposal at Monday night's meeting of the Carmel Cultural Commission was the offer by Commissioner Ashton Stanley to head an area-wide fund-raising committee to finance future refurbishing of the Sunset Center Auditorium.

Appointed by Commission Chairman D. Paul Medalie to head such a committee, Stanley suggested an initial goal of $35,000.

Contributions, he said, could be initially solicited in $50 amounts — each such amount of secure recognition for the donor by identification as the purchaser of one of the new seats which the City Council may next week arrange to buy for the Sunset Auditorium. Later, other projects — possibly the orchestra pit at Sunset — could focus the fund-raising.

Unsupervised use of the gymnasium at Sunset became a subject for discussion when Sunset Manager Cole Weston reported the problems such use caused.

Commissioners Patricia Faul and Dr. James Gilman recalled that possible use of the gymnasium, as well as the north playground, for community recreational purposes had been on the Commission's agenda in years past, and that such use might be worthy of serious consideration.

Dr. Gilman mentioned that the gymnasium was the only one available within Carmel city limits and that it should be given "play use."

Chairman Medalie said that in any event, the Commission was awaiting the master-planning for Sunset now under way under the supervision of Mayor Barney Laiolo, and that specific consideration of such matters as proper use of the Sunset gymnasium, could be resolved at a later time.

Manager Cole Weston called attention to the fact that planning must shortly begin if events such as the usual summer programming at the Forest Theatre are to be scheduled in time.

Early at its Monday evening meeting, the Commission heard from Jack Long of Monterey, who has succeeded Stephen Welles as head of the Welles Humanist Theater which has been leasing the underground theatre at the Forest Theatre site. Welles has resigned, but his group wishes to continue use of the Forest Theatre facility he had renovated. Long mentioned, however, that the group had liabilities of $1,470 and assets of only $200, but that it hoped to arrange to meet its obligations.

Ronald Guillemette of Carmel Valley sought two-months' use of the same underground facility at the Forest Theatre on behalf of a Monterey Peninsula College theatre group.

Both Forest Theatre requests were referred first to the Commission's planning committee, and then to its administration committee. City Administrator Hugh Bayless said he felt some words could be conveyed to each of the two groups within about two weeks' time.

In a definitive action, the Commission directed Commissioner Pruitt to investigate costs and arrange construction of an exterior doorway into the Planning Commission office at Sunset.

CBA Will Sponsor Christmas Window Display Contest

Sponsored by the Carmel Business Association, the annual Christmas "Light Up" will take place this year on Dec. 2.

The day also marks the beginning of the window display contest, which awards prizes for the best display by a Carmel merchant, and all Carmel shops are invited to participate, whether members of the association or not.

And for the first time, Carmel businessmen will hold open house on three successive weekends before Christmas.

The first, to be held on Dec. 6 and 7, will coincide with the "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" display of the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival at the La Playa Hotel.

Merchants in Carmel will remain open evenings on this weekend, and those of Dec. 13, 14 and 20, 21. All participating stores and shops will remain open until 9 p.m.

On Dec. 5, the Carmel Business Association will hold its annual Christmas dinner-dance and installation of new officers. Reservation information will be available later from Kay Scott, executive secretary of the organization of businessmen.

Judging of the window displays will take place during the week of Dec. 9-13, with six prizes of $25 each, and a grand prize of a three-year membership in the Carmel Business Association.

Judges for the event include Sally Conn, George Conn Real Estate; Claire Cross, Cross and Foster Real Estate; William Eklund, Eklund Realty; Lenore Foster, Cross and Foster Real Estate; Mel Lewis, Merrell Lewis Realty; Jack Martin, Carmel Realty; Mary Rose Pool, Catlin-McEwen Realtors, and Rod Santos, Catlin-McEwen Realtors.

Charles McEwen, president of the business group will be coach of the judging teams.

For further information on any of the December doings of the Carmel Business Association, call Kay Scott at 624-2522.

Ross Photographs In Sunset Show

Photographs by the noted Berkeley photographer Donald S. Ross are being featured in the exhibit which opened Friday evening at Sunset Center, San Carlos and 9th, Carmel.

The exhibition is sponsored by Carmel's Friends of Photography, Inc., of which Ross is a trustee, and continues to Jan. 5.

His one-man shows have been featured at the San Francisco Museum of Art, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Boston Symphony Hall, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Carl Seimbab Gallery in Boston, Chico State College and others.

He has published in a variety of photography magazines and annuals.

Ross for many years was in advertising photography, doing much of the photo work for the San Francisco office of J. Walter Thompson, Inc., the nation's largest ad agency.

He was a personal friend of the late Edward Weston and made a number of photographic trips with him.

Some of the photographs in the exhibit were taken on trips to Europe and Guatemala with Brett Weston. Others were taken on six trips which Ross has made to Baja, California.

Ross chiefly uses an 8x10-inch camera, which produces remarkable clarity.

ROYAL FAMILY — Eleanor of Aquitaine (Gertrude Chappell) chides her three royal sons, Princes John (James Bennett), Geoffrey (Nicholas Gerogiannis and Richard, Coeur de Lion (Paul Elliott). "King, king, king," she taunts them, "and two of you will be disappointed." "Lion In Winter," a sophisticated drama with delicious overtones of comedy is currently playing week-ends in the Circle Theatre. This production is NOT recommended for children, and reservations are recommended.

Movie Review

Hagbard and Signe — Scandanavian film with pop-singing Gitte Haenning of Sweden and Oleg Vidov, a Russian actor in the title roles.

For the Love of Ivy — Sidney Poitier and Abbey Lincoln in a romantic comedy rarity — a Negro romance in a major film. Good viewing.

Half a Sixpence — Tommy Steele in a lavish period English musical. He inherits a fortune and moves among the snobs of the Edwardian era.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Inspector Clouseau — Alan Arkin takes over from Peter Sellers as the inept French detective who always comes up smelling like a rose, not despite, but due to his stupidity.

Coogan's Bluff — Arizona sheriff Clint Eastwood goes to New York to bring back a murder suspect, meets LSD and other adventures before he returns to the clean-aired West.

Gone With the Wind — Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

Barbarella — Jane Fonda in the year 40,000. Ray guns, love making, strange perils. From a French comic strip of the same name.

Lady In Cement — Sinatra as Tony Rome, private eye. Dan Blocker of Bonanza tv as the heavy. Raquel Welch as a gal with lots of dough. Why do some people have everything?

Secret Life of An American Wife — Walter Matthau and Ann Jackson in this adult comedy. With Walter Matthau in any film, who needs reviews?

Theatre Guide

Star Spangled Girl—Neil Simon's show is refreshing and will cause you to laugh, smile and reminisce.

Lion In Winter — Playing to packed houses. Great level of professionalism throughout this entire production — producer, director, actors and backstage. Reservations advised.

Final Explorerama Film Dec. 7

The Explorers Club of San Francisco will present its final Explorerama travel and adventure film of the current season, "Valley of the Rhine," at 8:15 p.m., Dec. 7 in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

The award winning 2-hour color film will be narrated in person by Mr. Russ Potter.

The film follows the Rhine River from its source high in the Swiss Alps as it flows through the Principality of Lichenstein, Lake Constance, Germany and eventually to Rotterdam in Holland. Other areas seen in the film include Cologne, Friarberg, the Black Forest and Dusseldorf. In its short span of slightly more than 800 miles the Rhine flows through some of the most fascinating scenic beauty in Europe.

Reserved seats are now available at Central Box Office in Carmel, phone: 624-6739 and Abinnate Music Store in Monterey, phone: 372-5893.

Fair Ladies Party On Wednesday

The Fair Ladies Christmas party and sale will be held on Wednesday, December the fourth, both morning and afternoon. This is their fourth annual party for which the Fair Ladies have gained a reputation for unique and original decorations and gifts.

The display and sale are held in the home of Mrs. Stuart Symington Goode on the west side of North Hatton Road in Carmel. All guests are invited to the home of Mrs. Gabriel Burnette, directly across the street, for tea.

This year the Fair Ladies are featuring their small Christmas trees for tables or apartments. Each is decorated differently, displaying the talents of many artists. Christmas decorations, flower arrangements, wall hangings, as well as unusual designs of wreaths, trees, plaques made of native pods and cones, are presented with pride.

All Saints' Episcopal Church School, Carmel Foundation, Visiting Nurses, and the Community will benefit.

This year through the Red Cross the Fair Ladies have sent individual gifts to twenty-five nurses in Vietnam and have made Christmas favors for the trays of soldiers at the Fort Ord Hospital.

Those active in the Fair Ladies throughout the year are: Mesdames Gabriel Burnett, Benjamin Sowell, Richard Shaw, George Vaughan, Wesley Kergan, Arthur Craig, Eloise Johnson, Gladys Jones, I. Norman Downer, Robert Spencer, Hobart Moses, O. L. Spence, Richard Murtland, Morris Sheldon, Robert Reynolds, George Dietterle, Catherine Simard, Stuart S. Goode.

Spain and Portugal

Dr. and Mrs. Daniel LaMothe returned recently from a brief trip to Spain and Portugal.

They headquartered in Madrid where they took the usual tours and watched a bullfight. They drove down to Toledo for shopping.

They rested in a fishing village outside of Lisbon for a few days. Before leaving they visited the many memorials to Portuguese navigators and explorers.

Upon reaching U.S. soil again, they picked up 11-year-old Pierre of Middle School who had been visiting relatives in the East and explored New England and Washington, D.C.

On the way back they stopped to see Michelle who is in her second year at Stephens College in Missouri. In St. Louis they visited the spectacular metallic arch of the new Jefferson Memorial. In San Francisco, they were met by their other daughter, Louise, who studies law at Stanford University.

Interested in Boy Scouts

Mr. and Mrs. George Zahringer of Winnetka, Illinois are visiting their daughter and her husband, the Lee Stines in Carmel.

They are enjoying their grandchildren Mary Jo, 13, and Tracy, 7, who attend Santa Catalina; John, 10, who attends All Saints' and Charlie, 5.

John is a member of Cub Pack 3 of which Ernest G. Biggs is Cubmaster. Unfortunately, Den 5 has no Den Mother. Since Mrs. Stine is teaching at Monte Vista School, of course she cannot very well take on that task.

The Zahringers hope that someone will volunteer as they have an Eagle Scout in the family and know the benefits of Scouting.

Reality House for Girls

The purpose and prospects for the newly opened Reality House for Girls in Seaside will be the topic of a talk by its consulting psychiatrist, Dr. Gene England, at the next meeting of the Evening Guild.

It will meet in Grant Hall, All Saints' Episcopal Church, on Monday, Dec. 2 at 7:30. The meeting is open to visitors.

The dinner group will meet at six p.m. at the Coach House, San Carlos and 5th. For reservations call Mrs. Henry B. Thomas, 624-8261, extension 526 or leave message.

Song of Thanksgiving

Now to give thanks for all things fair,
The flowering earth, the shining air . . .

For creatures slow, or winged to fly
Up the blue altitudes of sky —

For summer's green and autumn's gold,
The new grass leaping through the old —

The wide sea gleaming to the west
Where winds are born and come to rest —

Simple to sing of these anew
But how to give thanks for sorrow too?

How cleanse the heart till love include
The whole of life in gratitude?

Name Jean Thomas Woman of the Year

Mrs. C. Mark (Jean) Thomas was honored last Friday by her many friends when she was named Woman of the Year by the Quota Club of Monterey. She was chosen for her many community and charitable activities of the past 18 years.

The gala dinner-dance was held at the Mark Thomas Inn. Quotarians were identified by the traditional red roses pinned to their gowns.

Mrs. Thomas wore a black dress with white ruffles down the front and at her wrists. A white orchid corsage was pinned to her shoulder.

Mrs. Frank Bell of Carmel, president, wore a silver dress and chairman of the evening, Capt. Mary Aplin (USN) wore a gold brocade dress.

The invocation was given by the Rev. James Brock and Master of Ceremonies was the amiable Steve Magyar.

Jean's children were all here for the event. Mr. and Mrs. David A. Ogilve (her daughter Julie from Denver surprised her). Son Edwin J. Thomas II came down from Menlo and her youngest daughter Karen came from Verde Valley School in Sedona, Arizona. Her daughter Sherry was also present.

Karen presented her mother with pink stem roses which Quota presents to the Woman of the Year. Mrs. Roma Philbrook of Asilomar presented the coveted bracelet, and Mrs. Bell the ceramic momento book made by Mrs. Eve Bell.

Featured speakers were Mrs. Hampton Stewart, Mr. Charles B. Kramer, Mrs. Rody Holt, Mr. Jack Dougherty and Mrs. Dorothy Stevens.

The Abalone Stompers proved music for dancing.

Thanksgiving in Carmel

The James F. van Loben Sels returned recently from a trip to northern California which included Orland, Red Bluff, Redding and San Francisco.

They gave away their tickets to the Stanford-Cal football game and have been resting until the Thanksgiving holidays when they expect their grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Foreign Service Scholarship

Pamela Ann Mayall, a freshman at the University of Oregon, has received a scholarship from the American Foreign Service Association, Washington, D.C. She is the daughter of K. L. Mayall of Carmel.

AAUW Meets Early

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will open its doors on Sunday, Dec. 1, between two and four, so that members of the American Association of University Women may see its current exhibit.

On view will be contemporary paintings by Helen Ludwig and sculpture by the Montalvo Sculptors. Refreshments will be served.

Elizabeth Tolles is taking reservations at 624-5533.

Bank Manager

Carmel High School graduate Roger Shields has been promoted to manager of a bank in Gresham, Oregon, according to his parents, the L. S. Shields of Hatton Road.

Still in his 20's, he is treasurer of the local Chamber of Commerce and on the board of directors of the Portland chapter of the American Institute of Banking.

Roger and his wife Patricia, also a CHS graduate have two small children, Patricia and Timothy.

The John Geisens have decided not to live in Europe after all which makes their Carmel friends very happy. They returned not long ago after an interesting summer divided between Paris and the Island of Sardinia.

They will have with them for Thanksgiving the Albert Henleys, former Carmelites.

New Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Herron, owners of Carmel's Viennese Shop, became grandparents for the fourth time when a baby girl was born to their daughter Gretchen on Nov. 18.

Lisa Stetson was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stetson at the Stanford University Hospital in Menlo Park.

The baby's other grandmother, Mrs. H. Stetson lives nearby in Santa Clara. She and the late Col. Stetson lived in Pacific Grove at the time the late Gen. Stilwell started Ft. Ord. Col. Stetson was engineer for the project.

The Viennese Shop, which imports custom made clothing for women, has been here for 40 years. It is the oldest business in Carmel under original management.

French Alliance Conversation Tea

Thursday, December 5 at 3 p.m., is the date set for December's Alliance Francaise monthly French Conversation Tea. Mmes. Richard Burton and Sorin Issvoran will be joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Burton, 710 Woodcrest Lane, Monterey.

Members and prospective members, accompanied by a member, should telephone for reservations either to Mrs. Burton at 372-74171 or Mrs. Issvoran at 372-0922.

Details about the annual Christmas party of the Alliance will be announced later.

Father-Son Picnic For Cub Scouts

A father-son picnic for Cub Scouts in Carmel Pack 3 took place in Washington Park, Pacific Grove, Sunday.

Twenty-six boys were recently inducted in the large pack under the leadership of Cubmaster Ernest Biggs, but not all can be active because they are short a Den Mother.

Jean Hazlett is Den Mother coach and leader of Den No. 1, assisted by Betsy Wright.

Ruth Stafford is Den Mother of Den No. 2, assisted by Ann Grant; Thalia Tsantes of Den No. 3, assisted by Charlene Parker; and Laura Adams of Den No. 4, assisted by Ruth Harper.

The various dens have been working on turkey name cards for Thanksgiving dinners in their own homes.

Dr. David Mills of Pebble Beach has been coaching the older boys in the Webelos Den.

Musical Comments

Britten Opera Exotic Experience

The Carmel Music Society audience reacted attentively and favorably to Benjamin Britten's opera, "Curlew River" at Sunset Theatre on Friday evening.

The Gothic arches of the auditorium helped induce the feeling that the performance was being held in a cathedral as it was meant to be. The processional up the aisle of all the performers dressed in monk's robes chanting in plainsong made a further contribution.

Not until they had reached the stage were the principal performers, all male, given their costumes. These were most striking, in the ancient oriental manner. Coupled with the graceful hand and body movements, against the simple background, it seemed almost as though an old Japanese scroll print had come alive.

The presentation was inspired both by the classical Japanese No drama, following Britten's visit to Japan, and the Medieval mystery play. The oriental and contemporary strains of the music were successfully interwoven.

Britten"s music was especially effective when the small orchestra, which included an organ, played by director Thomas Scherman, harp and bass viol, played music intended to convey the movement of the barge which the ferryman pushed with his pole.

Male voices were splendid throughout — Dan Merriman as the Abbot, William Metcalf as the Ferryman, and Warren Galjour as the Traveler. Traveler costume was particularly attractive, in shades of bright turquoise.

The part of the Madwoman, played traditionally by a male, was sung by Kenneth Riegel, who wore a white mask with his black costumes. His graceful stylized gestures as well as his voice transmitted the tortured feelings of a mother searching for her lost child.

The climax of the opera when they found the child's grave on the other side of the river and heard his disembodied voice, was very moving. The voice was that of Patrick Malone.

As is done at Bach Festival performances at the Mission, the performance ended as it had begun, with a recessional by the chorus of monks, a proper and artistic ending to an interesting experiment in musical theater.

High Contrasts and Sensitivity Mark Sevilla Piano Concert

Many Carmel regulars were missing from the recent Jean-Paul Sevilla piano concert in the Peninsula Concert series in Pacific Grove.

They must not have expected such a brilliant and sensitive performance or they would not have missed it.

Beginning with the Beethoven Variations in C minor Sevilla dramatized the high contrasts contained in the tender and explosive portions of the work.

Again in the Schumann Sonata in G minor, unbelievable prestos contrasted delicate poetic fancies.

Sevilla gave the Schubert Wanderer Fantasy the light delicacy it deserves, but seldom gets. However, he was more than equal to the stormy demands of the adagio and final movements.

It was in the last work, Pictures At An Exhibition by Moussorgsky, that the young virtuoso displayed the most variety in exquisite nuance and gigantic power, ranging from the brittle Ballet of Chicks in Their Shells to the royal grandeur of the Great Gate of Kiev.

For encores, Sevilla played the first Arabesque by Debussy and a Mendelssohn Scherzo. It would have been nice to hear the Algerian play some Ravel or later Debussy.

It was pleasant to see so many children and young people in the audience.

Need More Homes For Adoptions

Nearly a hundred babies have been placed this year by the Children's Home Society Adoption Agency, it was reported at the November meeting of the Council. But 35 applications had to be rejected because of the insufficient number of approved homes available, according to Mrs. Helen P. Robinson of Carmel, case work supervisor.

Mrs. Cecil Paul representing the Carmel Littlebits chapter and Mrs. Lucy Banfield of the League of Women Voters were among those present. Board member Dr. Mira Talbot of Carmel is responsible for publicity.

Walt Disney cartoons will be shown at the Hill Theatre Friday following Thanksgiving, sponsored by Winnie the Pooh chapter.

Anyone interested in further information about the Children's Home Society at 444 Pearl St., Monterey, may telephone its office at 373-3239, or Mrs. Leonard Cohen, chairman, at 624-5575.

Christmas Program At Woman's Club

Marking the advent of the Christmas season at the Carmel Woman's Club, the Children's Choir from the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel will present a program of Christmas carols at the next meeting of the Club on Monday, December 2nd at 2 p.m.

This occasion marks a return engagement of the Choir who presented a musical program for the Club last season and captivated their audience. Under the musical direction of Mrs. Carl E. Welchner, the children will be accompanied by Mr. Frederick Schaad at the piano.

Children in the choir, who meet regularly with Mrs. Welchner, are Karen Campbell, Brad Clark, Jodie Dixon, Patty Eyster, Andrew Haslett, John Jinishian, Lorene Kronholm, Betsy and Linda Lewis, Bonnie Mills, Marilyn Paul, Nancy and Sally Rideout, Carrie, Laura and Linda Shook, Chuck Snyder, Cheryl Welchner and Wayne Wood.

Acting as hostesses for the day are Mrs. John N. Hainer and Mrs. L. Abinante; Mrs. Joe Daly, Mrs. E. H. Ewig, Mrs. J. C. Hale and Mrs. Samuel Moore will preside at the tea tables. The pledge of allegiance will be led by Mrs. L. W. Lierly. The Club President, Miss Ianthe Densmore, will conduct the brief business meeting preceding the program which will be introduced by Miss Marion Eley, Program Chairman.

YOUNG ARTISTS — Haymo Taeuber, Monterey County Symphony conductor, congratulates Hye Y Min, Andrew Erlich, Darien Hopkins and Greg Stegeman, local winners in the Young Artists auditions sponsored by the Junior League, recently at Monterey Peninsula College.

Young Artists Winner Violinist

Andrew Erlich, 16-year-old Robert Louis Stevenson student, was first prize winner among the instrumentalists heard in the 1968 Young Artists Auditions sponsored by the Junior League Nov. 17.

Carmel trumpet player Greg Stegeman won third prize, and Darien Hopkins of Carmel second prize among pianists.

Erlich played the Mozart Concerto in A Major to win the $100 prize and the honor of being featured soloist with Monterey County Symphony in its February youth concert.

Andrew started his early training in Los Angeles at the age of six with a three-quarter size violin. For the past year since his family moved to Pebble Beach, he has studied with Michael Rosenker, former concertmaster with the symphony.

Darien Hopkins, also 16, is a student at Santa Catalina School where she is a pupil of Dorothy Heer. She was born and brought up in Big Sur until her family moved to Carmel four years ago.

Greg Stegeman graduated from Carmel high school last year. He is studying at Monterey Peninsula College.

A little 10 year-old Korean girl, Hye Y Min, who won honorable mention, is a piano pupil of Ralph Forbes.

All the young people acquitted themselves well, each one playing a difficult concerto. It was a most enjoyable recital for the audience.

'Creation' To Ge Given At Mission

The Monterey Peninsula Choral Society under the baton of its new Conductor and Musical Director, Haymo Taeuber, announces its first presentation for the 1968-69 season. Two performances of Joseph Haydn's "Creation" will be given December 14th and 15th at 8:00 p.m. at Carmel Mission Basilica.

Performing with the Choral Society will be Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra and soloists Norma Jean Hodges, Soprano, James Schwabacher, Tenor, and James Tippey, Bass.

Mr. Taeuber, former Conductor of the Vienna Opera Company and the Vienna Boys' Choir has been training the Choral Society since September for these performances. Music lovers will remember the Choral Society's previous presentations of Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" given for the past six years.

"The Creation" is this year's gift to the community and there will be no charge for admission but donations will be welcome to help defray expenses and may be mailed to Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, Box 272, Carmel.

Taeuber Honored

A reception honoring Professor and Mrs. Haymo Taeuber will be given by the board of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Association on Sunday, December 1, at the home of James Glaser on Strawberry Hill, Pebble Beach.

A Musical Evening

The Carmel Highlands home of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Mazzeo was the scene of a delightful evening of musical talk and performance recently for members of the Monterey County Music Teachers' Association and their guests.

The big gracious room, its walls lined with books and music, and with treasures from many lands lent itself perfectly to the occasion.

The program presented the importance of ensemble playing in the teaching of piano.

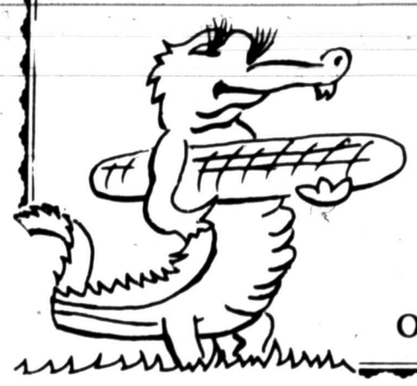

As Katie Clare Mazzeo quoted in her introduction, "The piano student is a lonely musician" and with great skill and charm she and Gilbert Boyer demonstrated the delights and rewards of ensemble playing, at two pianos and with four hands on one piano.

Delicious refreshments were served as members and guests continued informal discussion.

Among those present were Miss Dorothy Heer, Miss Angie Machado, Miss Marie Oliver, Miss Lily Walker and Sister Andreas of Santa Catalina School for Girls; Mesdames M. C. Holman, Billy Tucker, Howard Bowman, S. Gobberdiel, S. Soby Kalman, Donald Rich, Fritz Wurzmann, John Erickson, Philip Schneeberger, Edward Kuster, Margaret Aitkenhead, Hilda Bach, Ralph Royce, and Gladys Scales Bolles.

Also present were Mssrs. and Mesdames Fred Lewis, Gene Crittenden, L. W. Klene, Seung Park, Gilbert Boyer, Dr. and Mrs. Sorin Issvoran, Dr. and Mrs. David Mills, Robert Forbes, and Kenneth Ahrens.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Mazzeo and page turners were Miss Darien Hopkins and Mrs. Carole Erichson.

CROSBY'S PLAZA JEWELERS

Galloping into the world of jewelry these 14-karat golden horses are two examples of the artistic and unusually-styled pins available at Crosby's Plaza Jewelers.

Worn together or separately these delicately designed animals are graceful beauty in form. The small horse sells for $65.00, the large for $95.00. Carmel Plaza. P.O. Box 5217, Carmel.

CARMEL SPORTSHOP

It can take a lot of strength to pull that one rope but if used consistently it can improve your body fitness. The Exer-gym, available at the Carmel Sportshop, can be used by everyone either to maintain athletic ability or just to stay fit and trim.

It can be adjusted to almost any resistance and is the perfect thing to buy if you want to stay in shape. The complete set with instructions sells for $24.95. The warm-up suit, shown on the model and also available at the Sportshop, can be used for jogging, track or for working out with your Exer-gym. It comes in all sizes in blue, white and four other colors and sells for $30.00. The Sportshop specializes in all types of sports equipment and sports clothing. Lower Carmel Plaza, Ocean at Mission. P.O. Box 4286, Carmel.

EWIG'S

Regality touched its cloak of royalty into the heart of Carmel when these four king's treasures found their way off his majesty's table and onto the shelves of Ewig's of Carmel.

Exclusive only at Ewig's these beautifully designed hand-blown glasses come in four delicious colors: ruby, honey, olive and blue. The sets include from left: juice glass, wine glass, water tumbler and large water goblet. The ruby glasses range in price from $1.50 to $2.85 apiece and the other three colors from $1.25 to $2.25 each. Also available in plates and sherbets. Delores & 5th in the Del Dono Court. P.O. Box 5721, Carmel.

OXBRIDGE MEN'S WEAR

The "country look" in men's suits is achieving great popularity yet still is maintaining its traditional look. Oxbridge Men's Wear, which features the traditional look in men's clothing, has a wide variety of these country suits in plaids and English corduroys.

The hard-tweed country suit by Linett of New York, which is pictured, sells for $150.00 with a vast and $125.00 without. The bengal boots by Frank Brothers, come in all sizes and sell for $45.00. Oxbridge also specializes in a traditional line of shirts, by such names as Gant, Sero and Creighton. Dolores between Ocean & 6th. P.O. Box 5955, Carmel.

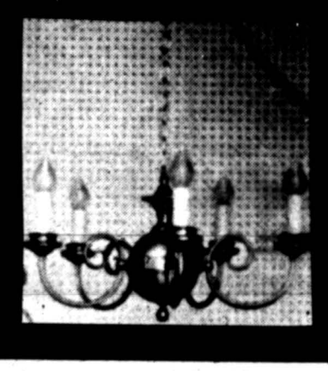

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

If you're watching for that certain gift it could come from The House That Jack Built. The official Omega dealers in Carmel, The House That Jack Built features watches designed to fit any special need and personality.

Featured from left are the men's Constellation, which comes in stainless steel or a solid gold top with stainless case, both with date-telling dial and range in price from $155.00 to $1,350.00. The woman's gold Omega comes in 14-karat yellow or white gold with mesh bracelet and begins at $200.00. The third watch, the Speedmaster Chronegraph, used by the astronauts, comes in stainless steel and sells for $186.00. Dolores & 6th. P.O. Box 1346, Carmel.

BAKER'S INTERIORS

The Georgian period has returned with a restored antique English chandelier claiming the honors. Simple yet elegant in design this chandelier, which can be adjusted by the link chain, is on display at Baker's Interiors. Featuring draperies, upholstery, and complete interiors designing, Baker's also offers a variety of lighting fixtures in their showroom. Mission & 8th. P.O. Box 44, Carmel.

KAREN'S KREATIONS

To add a romantic glow to your home during the holiday season why not enhance your lighting effects with candles from Karen's Kreations.

Karen has a new supply of soft-light creations from the Manor House collection that can serve as beautiful decorative items as well as adding a warm glow to your rooms. Tulip lights, soft, delicately-shaped flower petals with metal bases come in frosted white and amber. The bases come in antique gold and verde green. Chamber sticks, complete with candle snuffers, and gold-finished candelabra with slim white tapers offer more ornate lighting decorations.

Candles are included with all items. Dolores & 5th, Del Dono Court, P. O. Box 1774, Carmel.

LANZ OF CALIFORNIA

If you want an unusual gift idea but find that the family coffer is not abulge with golden coins, here's a clever but inexpensive gift that would please the heart of any age and any pocketbook.

Italian-imported ceramic jars, made especially for Lanz in Italy, are novelty delights you can use as cotton jars or as decoration.

Made of the same hand-painted ceramic material, Lanz also offers animal banks, such as the wide-eyed kitty cat or the happy-go-lucky lion. Mix them together or stand them alone, these ceramic jars and animals are delightful gift items and range in price between $1.00 and $5.00.

Lanz will remain open on Sundays from noon to 4 p.m.

ANTIQUES & ACCENTS

Lifelike enough they look like they'll nibble the blossoms a few moments longer and then fly away. These delicate birds made of bisque, an unglazed porcelain and hand-painted a clear-water blue, are available at Antiques & Accents.

Measuring less than a foot tall these birds make an enchanting decoration for any place in the house and sell for $28.50. Antiques & Accents also specializes in small gift items ranging from $1.00 to $5.00. Direct mailing is available. Dolores & 6th. P.O. Box 1961, Carmel.

COLLECTOR'S KITCHEN

French pastries that melt in your mouth; rich, hot homemade soups bubbling over with tender meat and vegetables and plump roast duck oozing with dressing.

All these are tempting culinary delights but they're only as good as the cook is. And what cook can't make his creations taste even better if he has the best possible cooking utensils, like the ones on display at the Collector's Kitchen.

Specializing in imported and domestic cookware the Collector's Kitchen features such lines as French Brioche, and English "Royal Worcester." The Kitchen's cookware comes in all shapes and sizes and will help make any holiday cooking a pleasure. Dolores & 6th. P.O. Box 3628, Carmel.

Guide To Swindles Pub[lished]

A new guide on frauds and swindles has just been developed and published by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Called the "Consumer Guide for Older People," (AOA Publication No. 301), the wallet-size pamphlet will be of benefit to young people as well as the elderly.

It outlines spending cautions and the workings of the major frauds and swindles directed against older people primarily, and has spaces for telephone numbers of people and agencies frequently called and a panel for notations of special health conditions.

New Admin. For Beacon House

Dorothy and Bill Pech, a husband and wife team that truly understands the problems of alcoholics, have been named the new administrators of the Beacon House, Monterey Peninsula treatment center for alcoholism.

The Pechs come to Pacific Grove from San Francisco, where Pech was assistant manager of the Alano Club, a social gathering place for arrested alcoholics.

The center, located at 468 Pine Ave., is associated with the Monterey County Alcoholism Clinic, Alcoholics Anonymous and other public health agencies, as well as physicians, the clergy and others interested in the problem of alcoholism.

EPISCOPAL RESPONSE

"Support us in daring to think and act and believe with imagination, Lord God. We're so timid about venturing out of the little boxes which shield us from the joy and pain of encounter with people, with the environments in which we live, and from encounters with You. We cling to our shells, fearing pain, only to find ourselves dying from cramp, suffocation and boredom. Help us to participate in the courage of Your love". (From EPISCOPAL RESPONSE readings for September 29, 1968).

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ermine Harding Michaud, mother of Aime G. Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties, died recently in Palo Alto. Born in 1894 in Gervais, Oregon, of a pioneer family, she was a graduate of Willamette University and the University of Minnesota. She was the wife of the late Aime George Michaud. For many years they owned hotels in California and Washington. She was associated with the Student Housing Administration at Stanford University. She is survived by her son Aime and a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Ford Einhorn of Saratoga.

Pomeroy Tells of Czech Invasion

"I was awakened by the sound of tanks in the streets and jet planes overhead. I glanced at my watch, and noted it was 4 a.m.

"The invasion of Czechoslovakia had begun."

John Pomeroy II and his wife, of Carmel Valley, was in Prague when the Soviet Union invaded the city, and at the Monday meeting of the High Twelve Club, he gave an eyewitness story of the conduct of the Soviet troops and his escape from Prague.

"The tanks and troops had been airlifted to the Prague airport, where they murdered all of the employees except the tower attendant. Two elderly women standing in a bus stop were run over and a 14-year-old girl had her head blown off.

"The Russian troops entertained themselves at the art museum with target practice, causing considerable damage."

Pomeroy, who teaches Russian, French and Theater at York School, and his wife, escaped from Czechoslovakia with the help of the American Embassy, which organized a convoy of nearly 500 evacuees, mostly Americans and some Germans.

Pomeroy concluded his observations by predicting that more invasions are probable, invasions into Yugoslavia, Albania and Rumania, unless NATO takes a firm stand.

On Vacation

The Reverend Burkert Cree, with his son George, has been visiting his parents and his 92 year old grandmother in Indianapolis.

While he was gone, Dr. Ronald Menmiur, philosophy professor at Monterey Peninsula College, took his place in the pulpit at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

Paul's advice to the Ephesians, "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil," (Chapter 6:11) is part of this week's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon. Titled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," the lesson-sermon will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world.

Related passages from the denomination textbook are part of the lesson-sermon and will include the following: "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue truth build a strong defence." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

'Potluck Hospitality'

Potlucky is a misnomer unless you really are taken by surprise when unexpected guests pop in. We are interested in planned potluck and lucky are those whose pot contains both turkey and ham.

After the traditional Thanksgiving feast, be prepared for an influx of young people home for the holiday weekend. You must know, if your household already consists of teenagers, that the going will be hectic from Thursday until Sunday.

Advance Planning

But it's amazing what can be done in the kitchen department with advance planning, convenience products and an imaginative touch. Just remember that young appetites prefer solid food rather than too fancy fare.

A hearty casserole (which is the "pot" in potluck), can be put together early in the morning, even the night before, refrigerated and popped into the oven before serving time.

Teen Age Cooks

Your teenager with a flair for cooking, could make Macaroni and Cheese Imperial, a new version of this popular dish. Then, while the buffet table is being set, commence the menu with crisp relishes and a choice of hot or cold appetizer-beverages

Let's describe the recipes for our 'teen potluck buffet, followed by a fancier, more sophisticated holiday luncheon. Perhaps you'll want to include some of each and serve a combined family-style meal for visiting relatives.

"Teen Potlucky Buffet"

To add new interest and spark to youthful parties, serve

Holiday "V-8" Sip

One can (24 oz.) "V-8" juice; 1 T. brown sugar, 1 t. lemon juice; generous dash each allspice and cinnamon. Serves 6.

In saucepan, combine ingredients and heat. Serve hot in mugs. Pass toppers of popcorn, pickled onions on picks, or pretzel-stick canes.

One can (24 oz.) "V-8" juice, chilled; 1 cup chilled apple juice; fruit slices. Serves 6.

If you don't already plan to have vegetable stirrers, have a large cold bowlful of

Crisp Relishes

Make an arrangement of carrot sticks, thin strips of unpeeled zucchini and cucumber, green pepper strips, raw tender young cabbage wedges, or smallest brussels sprouts, green onions with ends sliced vertically in several places, bright radish rosettes, green and ripe olives, pickled and cauliflower buds. Serve everything over cracked ice in large bowl. Pass garlic and onion salt or seasoned salt.

Ham and Turkey Molded Salad

Two pkgs. (3 oz. each) lemon flavored gelatin; ½ t. salt; ¼ t. onion salt; 2 cups boiling water; 1½ cups cold water; 2 t. vinegar; 1½ cups each cubed baked ham and turkey. Green peas and diced celery with greens; mayonnaise, lemon. Serves 6.

Dissolve gelatin and salts in boiling water. Add cold water and vinegar. Chill until just thick. Fold in ham and turkey. Pour into a 1½ qt. ring mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold on crisp curly endive; surround with mounds of cooked green peas and raw celery cubes, mixed with lemon-flavored mayonnaise. Sprinkle with paprika. Pass extra mayonnaise.

Macaroni and Cheese Imperial

One and a third cups uncooked macaroni; boiling salted water; 1-1/3 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese; 2/3 cup soft bread crumbs; 1/3 cup melted butter; ¼ cup each finely chopped red and green pepper; 2 t. salt; 2 t. diced onion; 2 cups milk, scalded; 4 egg yolks, well beaten; 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten. Serves 6.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water according to pkg. directions; drain. Combine cheese, crumbs, butter, peppers, salt and onion. Add milk, then stir in egg yolks. Add macaroni, then fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into 2-qt. buttered casserole.

Place in pan of hot water. Bake at 350 F. 1 hour or until bubbly brown. Serve with a rich mushroom sauce, if desired, by heating undiluted cream of mushroom and cheddar cheese soups and combining same.

Chocolate Refrigerator Cake

One env. whipped topping mix; 2 t. sugar; ¾ cup cold milk; ½ t. vanilla; 1 pkg. (about 38) chocolate wafer cookies. Serve 6 generously.

Combine whipped topping mix, sugar, milk and vanilla in deep bowl with narrow bottom. Whip as directed on package. Spread each cookie with 1 t. prepared topping; then stack in groups of 7.

Place in log effect on serving plate and frost with remaining topping. Garnish with shaved chocolate. Cover and refrigerate overnight before serving. Cut diagonally. Soft drinks are in order. As all these recipes serve 6, double or triple for large group. Leftovers will keep and disappear during an icebox raid.

Sophisticated Holiday Luncheon

Tiny Tomato Toppers with Sherry or other drinks
Turkey Tetrazzini
Avocado and Orange Salad
Individual Lemon Meringue Tarts
Wine Coffee Liqueurs

Tiny Tomato Toppers

Rinse and cut into halves 18 cherry tomatoes; spoon following mixture into slightly hallowed out tomato halves. Blend softened cream cheese with finely chopped walnuts; season to taste with lemon juice, grated onion and salt. Chill before serving.

Serve on melba toast rounds, anchored with blob of mayonnaise.

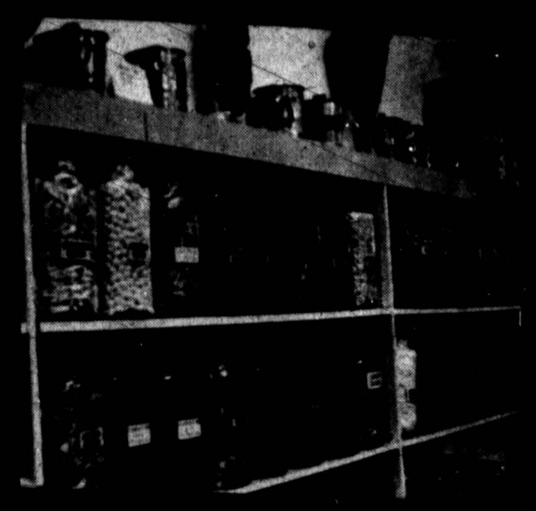

Turkey Tetrazzini

Half an 8 oz. pkg. spaghetti; 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas. Sauce: 1 can cream of mushroom soup, undiluted; 1 cup turkey stock or canned clear chicken broth; 1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese; ½ t. Worcestershire sauce; salt and pepper to taste. Two cups cooked cubed turkey; ¼ cup whole toasted almonds; ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese; paprika.

Cook spaghetti as package label directs. Drain and keep hot over double boiler. Cook peas, also according to directions, but slightly undercooked.

Meanwhile make sauce by combining all sauce ingredients, mixing well. Over medium heat, bring mixture to a slight boil, stirring. Remove from heat.

Toss spaghetti with peas, turkey, almonds and half of sauce until just combined. Turn into shallow 2-qt. casserole. Pour over rest of sauce; sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Run under broiler, 4 inches from heat, about 4 minutes or until Tetrazzini is golden. Truly an operatic marvel.

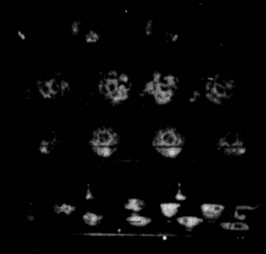

CARMEL CANDIES

Jars and jars of nothing but delicious candy. Los Padres Temporarily Opened With Permits

Forest Supervisor William H. Hansen has announced that all areas of Los Padres National Forest which have been closed to public entry because of high fire danger will be opened to use under the restricted area permit system.

Unless high fire danger conditions develop, these conditions will prevail until complete opening of the forest is effected with the close of fire season.

Recent storms have lessened the fire danger but have not produced enough rain to completely eliminate the danger of fire occurrence.

Supervisor Hansen reminded all persons that fire season has not ended in Los Padres National Forest. Fire permits are required for use of back country trail camps year around. Open fires are always prohibited and smoking is allowed at posted locations only.

Fire closure signs will remain in place. People desiring entry to fire closure areas should check with local ranger stations in order to secure entry permits.

Gymnastics, Acrobatics at Middle School

Serge Sinkevich, a 63-year-old Russian teacher at the Defense Language Institute, will be one of the performers at the Peninsula Gymnastic's Club's demonstration on Friday, Nov. 29 at the Carmel Middle School gymnasium.

Shows will be held at 3 and 7:30 p.m. and will last one hour each. Routines will be presented in free exercise and women's apparatus.

Admission will be free.

Sinkevich will perform hand-to-hand handstands on the floor with Larry Bell.

Lance Astrella, current West Coast champion on the rings and a member of the club since he was 13, will be performing in his specialty.

Presently a student in chemistry at Chico State College in California, Astrella has won a gold medal on the rings and a bronze medal for work on the parallel bars.

During his lunch hours he teaches gymnastics to the personnel at the Presido and on Tuesday evenings he teaches advanced club members at the Carmel Middle school gymnasium.

In comparing gymnastics today to a half a century ago, Sinkevich said, "It mainly differs in versatility and grace, with the result that there is much better coordination now.

"Strength used to be the prerequisite for gymnastics and the goal in itself; many movements, such as the 'inverted iron cross' on the rings, or the 'Diomidor movement' on the parallel bars, were unknown at all.

He explained that the holders of today's records have far surpassed the old records in all branches of gymnastics including the endurance records.

"The age of an active athlete used to be 18 to 30 at the most," Serge said. "Today a gymnasist at 30 is in his prime and there are many over 40 years of age."

Gymnastics in the United States was almost nonexistent, he added, until American gymnasts earned their place for the first time in Rome in 1960, earning a total 555.20 points and coming in fifth.

Dr. George Schacker, physics teacher at the Naval Postgraduate School, and director of the club, is the chief instructor for the women in the show, who will be performing tumbling routines, free exercise and the uneven parallel bars routine set to music.

Sinkevich, who trains the men and boys in the club, first became interested in gymnastics as a young boy. He joined the Gymnastics Club in 1957 when he started looking for a place that had more equipment than the Presido gym. He discovered there was a gymnastics club at the Carmel Middle School and joined. Since then he has worked with the gymnasists, who range in age from 16 to 50 years of age.

Malnutrition Among Rich

Adequate nutrition begins at conception, Middle School science teacher Al Kolb reported on the theme of National Science Teachers conference in Portland, Oregon which he attended recently.

If certain amino acids are not present, it affects mental ability. Nutritional deficiency may take place among people with high incomes as well as in the ghettos, he said.

Kolb gave a paper on solving science problems at Middle school. Since then he has received 15 letters of further inquiry.

Curls and Swirls for Girls

Curls are bouncing back in style.

These soft, wispy swirls of hair come into a variety of styles from soft tendrils pulled out along the hairline and curling around the forehead to bouncy ringlets gathered into clumped clusters by artful arrays of flowers, ribbons and bows.

Add a sprig of holly to your new coiffure or intwine red and green ribbons throughout your curls and any Christmas holiday setting is yours. No matter what the occasion curls can add a special twirl and flounce to your appearance.

Other ways to glamorize a hairdo for the Yuletide season are by adding artificial and real-hair braids and postiches to your hair.

These hair-pieces can be artfully arranged in with your hair. Braided chignons can be worked into dozens of styles, from hanging down the back to piled high on the head.

Hair-pieces themselves are following the trend of the curly look. Also, hair falls are curlier and shorter, bouncing saucily at shoulder length rather than long and flowing.

For a real holiday treat try wearing a postiche and hair fall together. They add spicy fullness to the top of the head while still giving soft curls below.

Fat and saucy or feathery and wispy, curls spell instant success for the woman of fashion beauty.

Finance Career Bypassed By Ewig

Stan Ewig feels he has a responsibility to the people of Carmel. Stan, who owns Ewig's gift shop in the Del Dono Court, feels that shops have a responsibility not only to the tourists but to the local people as well.

"The responsibility of the gift shop is to maintain an image," he said. Many of the local people send gifts away postmarked Carmel, he said, explaining that it is up to the shops to give them the desired quality Carmel offers.

A native of Carmel, Ewig gave up a career in finance to remain here. In a career in finance he would have had to eventually transfer out of Carmel for promotion if he remained with a large corporation.

This he refused to do and bought his current shop in March of 1967. He specializes in exclusive items, such as soup 'n salad cup and saucers and Viking glassware.

He also features a special assortment of fine bone china creamers and saucers from England and has a variety of crystal.

Ewig feels that the customers designed the shop, since he and his wife, Edith, built the shop around customer demands.

Ewig attended the Sunset Elementary and Carmel High Schools after which he spent two years in the Navy. He later attended the New York Institute of Finance.

He became the manager of an investment company in Carmel until they closed their California operations. It was at this company that he met his wife Edith, who was working there as a secretary.

When the Security National Bank opened its Carmel Valley Branch Stan became the manager. When the firm was purchased by United California Bank Stan decided to start his own business.

The Ewig's have two daughters, Valerie, 9½ and Sharon, 8, both of whom help distribute the Pine Cone each week.

Sturgeon Speaks To Rotary Clubs

Carmel Rotarians, meeting with the Monterey Club, last week heard Vern Sturgeon, a past State senator from Paso Robles and now legislative secretary to Governor Reagan.

Sturgeon described the detailed organization of the governor's office and how the day-to-day operations work.

He took the combined Rotary Clubs on a knowledgeable tour of the governing bodies at the state capital, outlining the duties, functions and responsibilities of the various groups of state government.

In addition to his discussion of the legislative process, Sturgeon described how the appropriations for construction of a new freeway through the present "Bloody Alley" south of King City were achieved.

As a last bit of good news for local residents, Sturgeon indicated that approval is expected soon for widening the Monterey-Salinas Highway.

OBITUARY

Lt. Col. John Chester Caldwell (USA ret), 66, Carmel resident since 1957, and manager of the Carmel Sands Motel, died suddenly last week.

His 13 years of Army duty included World War II. He and his wife Delphine, came to Carmel following his retirement. He is survived also by two sons and eight grandchildren.

He will be buried with full military honors at Fort Logan National Cemetery, Denver, Colorado. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiated at services here.

A member of the Carmel Kiwanis Club, friends wishing to make contributions in his memory may do so to the Carmel Kiwanis Club Scholarship Fund, Box 1213, Carmel.

Laky Selects With Proficiency

By Louise Cook

The newly reorganized Laky Gallery is featuring a well chosen group of paintings by local, national and international artists of established reputation.

Proferio Grossi, a realist of great technical skill, has created a superb still life, using a neutral palette of golds and browns.

A large oil by Jolifie Conin, a French artist, shows a tangle of urban symbols, wires, rails and buildings, all done in a riot of beautiful color.

Othello Michette, who spends much of his time travelling the world contributes an Italian bee hive chapel, a fresh and uncontrived water color.

There are scenes of Venice with a dream-like quality, done in oil, water color and encaustic by Valenzis.

De Groat's massive figures express a disinterest of detail, but convey a feeling of contained energy.

There are also the familiar canvasses of Zyta Laky, paintings of flowers, musical instruments, the sea and the horses she does so well.

Greer's Trees In Stanford Exhibit

Stanford University is presenting the Greer paintings of great trees of the world at the Tresidder Union from Nov. 25 until Dec. 8.

Greer, a former resident of Carmel and still a frequent visitor and contributor to the Pine Cone, now lives in Palo Alto.

She is an artist and poet, and has recorded on canvas, in sumi sketches and the written word a series she has called "Great Trees of the World" and which makes up this exhibition.

Many great trees that marked the spot where a historical event occurred have turned to dust. Many more are slowly succumbing to time.

The tree where the Magna Carta was signed is gone, and the Robin Hood tree is showing its age and requires much care to keep it alive. The Charter Oak in New England is gone, as are numerous other fine record trees of note.

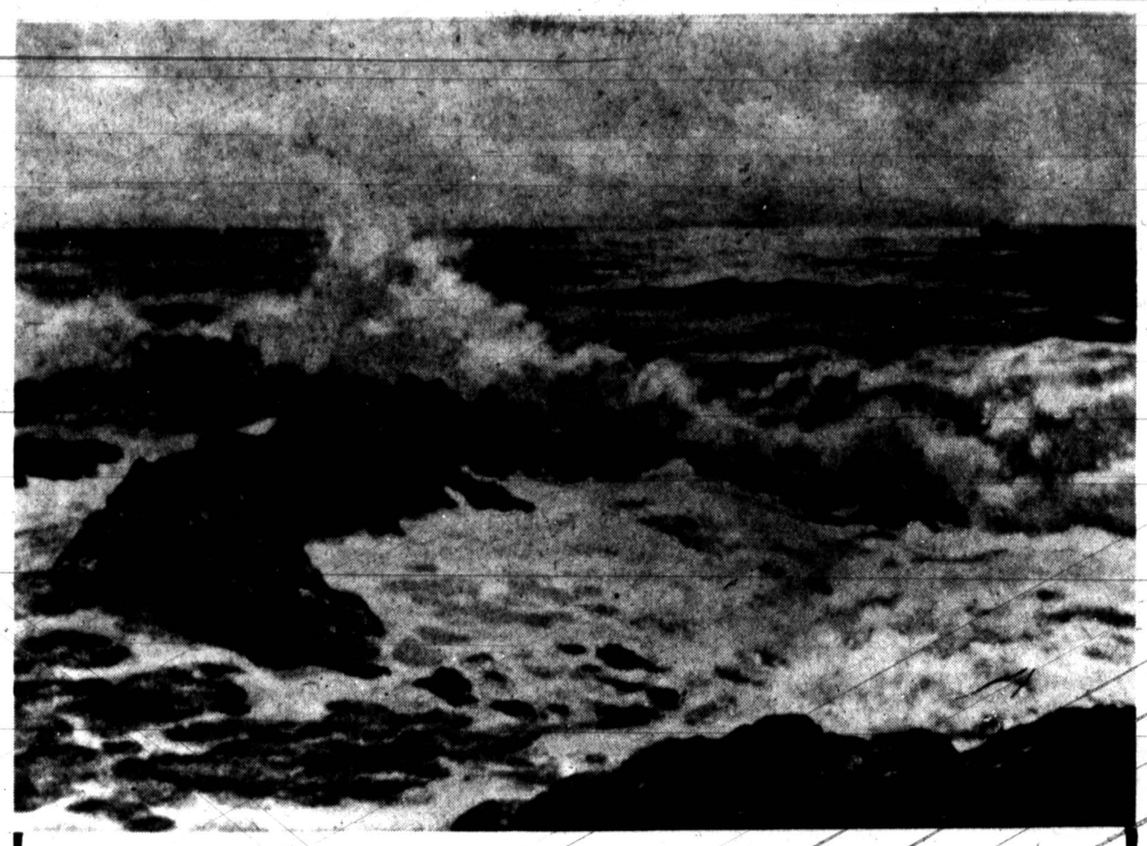

Greer's exhibit is one step in preserving at least the memory of the famous trees that still exist.

Greer writes poetry under her full name, Greer Newcomb, and for the past 20 years has been painting the Big Sur - Carmel - Pebble Beach scene. She considers herself a "commuting citizen" of sorts.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF THE FINE ARTS AND CRAFTS FESTIVAL OF MONTEREY COUNTY . . . .

In the fall of 1966 the Monterey County Symphony Guild — Salinas Chapter, undertook the task of producing a fine arts and crafts festival at the Monterey Fairgrounds. The intent of the festival was to bring together West Coast artists and craftsmen for a top quality competitive show along with a Festival of two days duration, to include artists--in-action, gourmet food booths, local art club exhibits, children's art show, and a continuous program on the fairgrounds (i.e. folk dancing, marching bands.) The undertaking was so great that despite the fact that the response was tremendous from artists and patrons alike, the affair produced a financial deficit.

Those involved in that first show were so enthused by the reception of the idea and so determined that the work of the first year's show not be in vain, that the project was taken over from the Symphony Guild and a separate corporation was formed — known as the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival, Inc. Within the first year we were granted non-profit corporation status from the State of California, and a Federal tax-exempt status as a charitable corporation. The proceeds from future Festivals were ultimately to be returned to the cultural endeavors of the county (i.e. Symphony, Art museums, community theatre groups.)

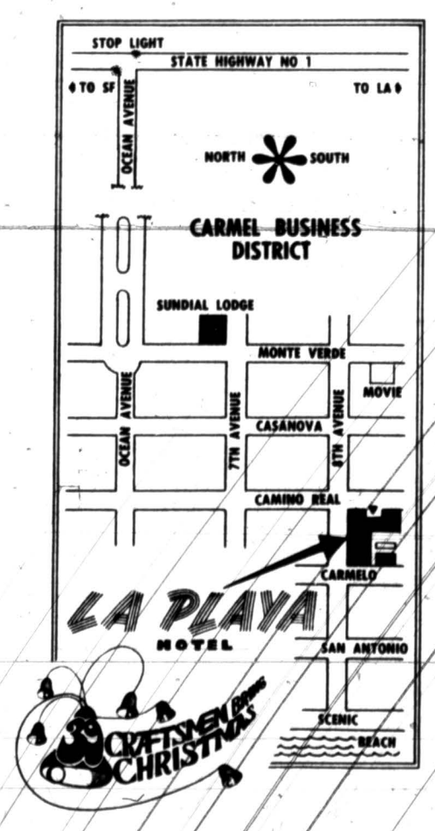

A second Festival was attempted in October 1967 with an even wider scope of programming. The San Diego Ballet brought the first major ballet production to the Monterey county; the Keio Mandolin Orchestra from Tokyo, Japan performed; the White Oaks Theatre staged two highly successful performances of "Winnie the Pooh"; and numerous other musical and dance groups performed. In addition there were special art exhibits by Gordon Newell, the Monterey County Museum of Art and the Lyceum, but financial success again eluded the festival.

Our Board of Directors, composed of artists and craftsmen along with businessmen and housewives, again evaluated the show and felt that termination of the venture would indeed be an error. The response indicated that this Festival could gain a stature similar to that of the Monterey Jazz Festival if we could sustain ourselves long enough to repay our underwriters, backers and debtors. However, we realistically knew that a 1968 Festival was out of the question — instead our hope lay in the accumulation of some funds during the year, with a Festival again being presented during the bicententennial celebration of the Monterey Peninsula in 1969.

With this goal in mind, the Board of Directors embarked on a Christmas "bazaar" unlike any held previously in Carmel. Howard Allen, the manager/owner, of the La Playa Hotel offered his hotel to us for the event; Mrs. Virginia Stanton, member of the California Arts Coordinating Council, offered her assistance in planning the event; and Sunset Magazine agreed to do a story on the event for their December issue. The name "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" was adopted and a selection committee began their work of choosing the top craftsmen of the area that would receive invitations to take part. Several main rooms in the hotel will house the craftsmen in booths showing their works within a buying range of $1.00 to $200.00. Large door prizes will add excitement to the affair.

A wine and cheese preview will be held Friday evening, Dec. 6, from 6-9 p.m. with a suggested donation of $1.00 which will include three tickets for the benefit drawing. Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 7 and 8 the show will be open from 12-10 p.m. with admission free.

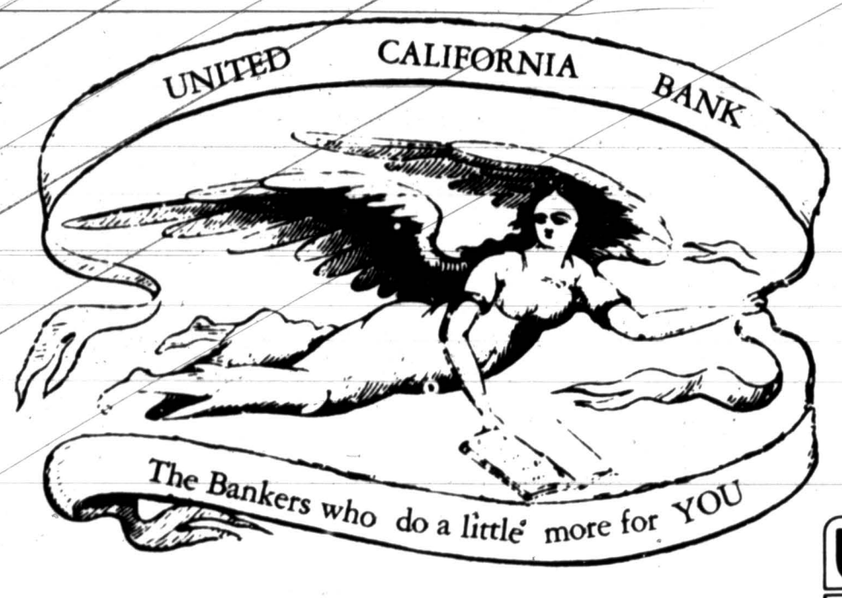

Please come and share the enjoyment of selecting truly individual gifts by the leading craftsmen of our area, and free your holiday season from the anxieties of the last minute rush.

FRANK O'NEAL

The Executioner, The Bruk Bros. Spacemen, The Sheriff, The King, The Witches, and his frequent references to Mary May, are all familiar to comic readers and will be to the visitor to the "39 CRAFTSMEN BRING CHRISTMAS." Frank is making many of these cartoon characters available for purchase at the show.

MALOA — This statuesque, elegant clothing designer executes her hand-sewn fashions with classic form and simplicity. As her sole production staff, Maloa maintains the quality control and flair which have become her trademark throughout the length and breadth of the state.

ALICE SHANNON — In her 20 years of jewelry designing, Alice has been exploring methods of casting. In addition to her formal art training as a sculptress, she studied centrifugal casting (the lost wax process) at the California College of Arts and Crafts and the techniques of industrial casting in New York and Los Angeles. As the daughter of a mining engineer she became acquainted with mineral and crystal formations and since then has studied the potentialities of metals and stones, greatly adding to her repertoire of techniques.

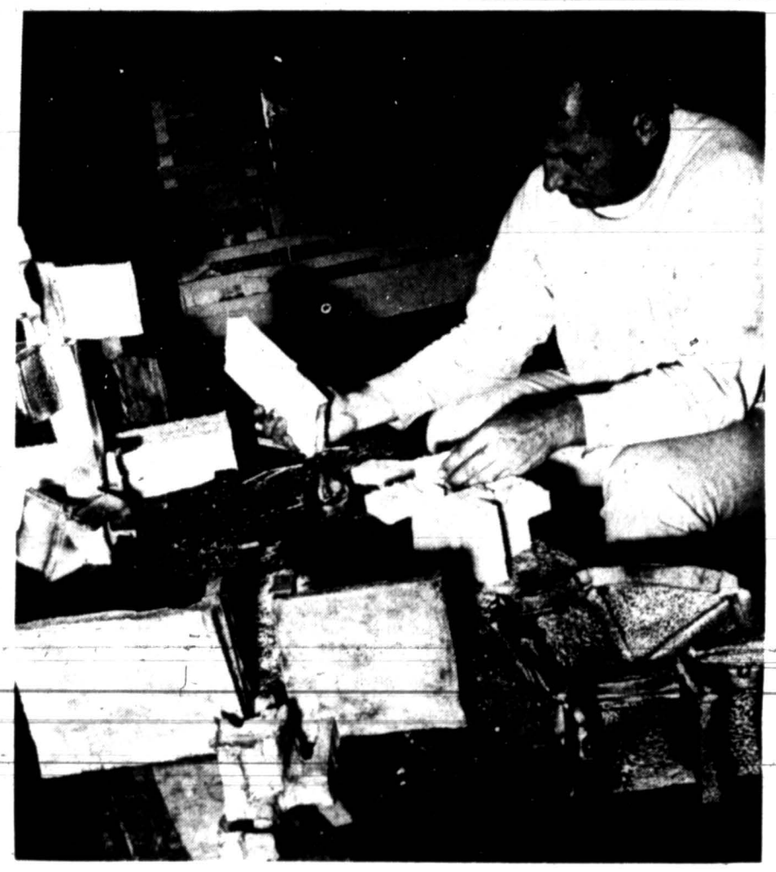

She has exhibited across the United States, is represented in the permanent art collection of the City of San Francisco, was chosen for display at the first international jewelry show at Pforzheim, Germany and was included in The Art of Personal Adornment, at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York, and Museum West in San Francisco.

AVIS BALLARD — The coming of Avis to Carmel from Illinois fairly recently has meant the addition of an enamelist with a very delicate touch to the ranks of area craftsmen. Already a prizewinner in many California shows, she is one of the few craftsmen to tackle the project of portraiture with this difficult medium. Contrasted with these are her animal subjects and vibrant abstract panels.

ED CROMEY — This multi-faceted graduate of Michigan State University is well-known for his wide collection of glazes and the highly controlled technique used in his narrow-necked bottles. A thoroughly professional craftsmen, Ed is represented in virtually every ceramic competitive and was accorded the acclaim of his peers when he served as West Coast representative of the American Craftsmen's Council. Among other things he also produces jewelry and woven rugs.

DENIS WAGNER — A graduate in architecture at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, Denis began his work in casting while involved in home construction and has developed some individual concepts in building hardware, and more recently in cast aluminum weed pots and candle holders. Working directly in styrofoam for his model, a level of spontaneity is obtained that is exactly reproduced when the molten metal is poured into the sand, which has been packed around the model. The tones achieved by his brass bells, which will be for sale, should be tested.

DON BEATTY — A resident of Los Gatos, but an extensive traveller throughout the world, Don brings much experience to the art of photography. He works primarily in color, doing all his own lab work and even designing his own frames. His muted colors and his honest reproduction of an image should be noted. Don believes in printing only 16 limited editions of one negative. He owns and operates a gallery and studio in Old Town.

ELDON DEDINI OF CARMEL — Just look through any edition of THE NEW YORKER or PLAYBOY and you'll get a good laugh from a Dedini cartoon. It isn't just the laugh you enjoy, but the thought after the laugh of the bitter truths and inconsistencies of our lives. The fine edge between laughter and tragedy is where Eldon gets his satisfaction. Available for sale will be finished sketches of his recent cartoons. Note his cartoon on our brochure — his model was NOT one of our balloon girls, nor will ours be dressed in the fashion of his.

RONALD C. JAMES — The credit line "Photography by Ronald C. James" is becoming increasingly well known through his feature photographic portfolios and cover shots for the Leica magazine, INFINITY, (published by the American Society of Magazine Photographers), and Life.

Referring to a reecnt showing of Ron's work, Jacob Deschin, photography critic for the NEW YORK TIMES said: "The appearance of a new talent in photography is a rare event these days, and reason for rejoicing. The latest such occasion is the current show by Ronald James at the Leica Gallery. . . . Thoroughly alive to the special quality of the simplest events, his pictures catch the little touches that lend significance to the trivial."

ROBERT GRABOWSKI — Training in industrial design, sculpture and exhibit work has led to the formulation of a philosophy of jewelry design which insists on complete integration of materials to the wearer. As expressed by Bob, "The stones should appear to grow in the piece and the piece should appear to grow on the person." Much stress is placed no the use of yellow gold with natural, warm textures, rather than the "high-polished finish which seems to leap off the hand." Working on the Peninsula for the past nine years, he maintains a craft shop at the head of Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey.

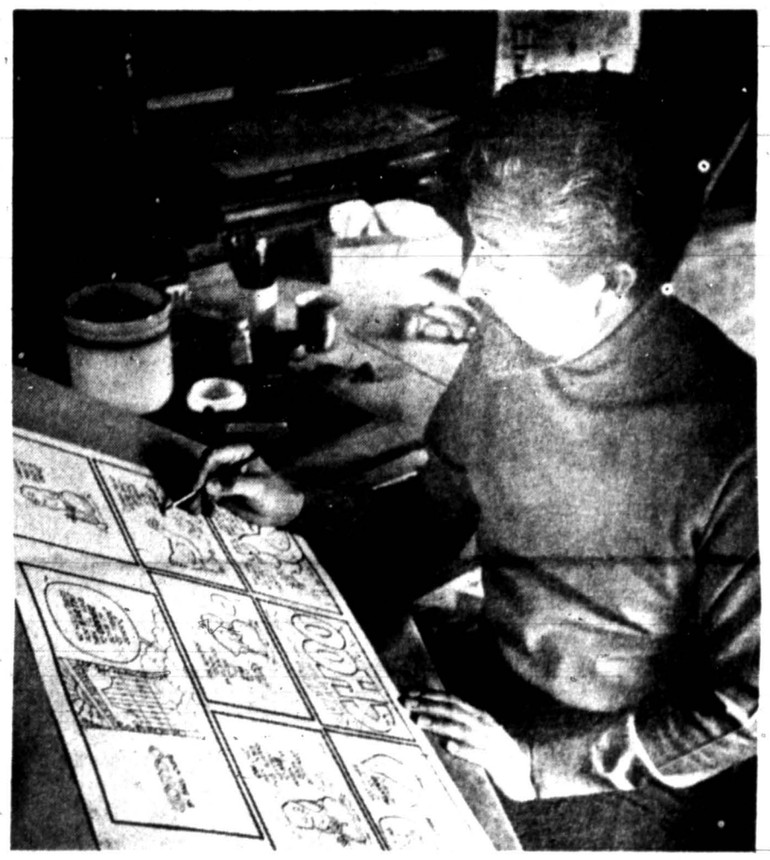

DALE HALLBERG — From his background as a landscape architect in Southern California, Dale has developed the sculptural growth concept which he utilizes in his work. Using woods and both cast and welded metals, he creates works from one to twelve feet tall which establish their own scale through textural variations and sensitivity to his materials.

MERILYN BROWN — A Peninsula transplant from the Los Gatos-San Jose area, Merilyn spends a majority of her time painting water colors in the style of the one being offered in the benefit drawing booth. Recently, however, her interest in the exciting fabrics on the market nowadays, has been channelled into the making of the contemporary ties shown in her booth at 39 CRAFTSMEN BRING CHRISTMAS. Her talent and her eye for color are displayed equally in her paintings and ties.

RUDI MARZI — Since his arrival here from San Jose, Rudi has firmly established himself as one of the leading potters in the Peninsula area. His ceramic murals show tremendous draftsmanship and control of both figures and the clay medium. In their shop in Carmel Valley, Rudi and his wife Nancy produce not only their stoneware pots, mirrors and bells, but the widely-distributed Monterey Jade Pottery.

GUS ARRIOLA — Gus is one of the Peninsula's nationally-known and well-liked caballeros. His cartoon strip GORDO, a United Feature Syndicate Strip, started in 1941, has brought many distinguished artist's citations. Note his gift to us of "Bug Rogers" on the brochure, an original to this event. His cartoon is next to the model in Sunset's December article on the "39 CRAFTSMEN BRING CHRISTMAS."

STUDIO WEAVERS — Lynn Fox and Les Rhinehart (shown here), along with their partner Russ Brown, form the Studio Weavers. From their shop in the historic Pacific Building in Monterey, come the prize-winning designs that have been featured in national magazines and competitive craft shows.

Drawing on their diverse training in fields from business to music, this talented trio brings to their work both the highly inventive style of the musician and the practicality of the analytical mind so essential to quality weaving.

ARTHUR GULLICKSON — Drawing from the tremendous vitality of the surrounding in which he works, Arthur can be seen on local beaches working furiously to produce the exciting natural sand-cast candles you will see at the La Playa Hotel during the "39 CRAFTSMEN BRING CHRISTMAS" show.

The timing required to get the sand at the right texture and the tide going in the right direcion was a lesson learned the hard way by Arthur one day when he watched a whole day's work wash silently out to sea after a miscalculation of the tide. Many of the organic growth shapes he has saved since then are available to you now in both scented and unscented forms.

Ludwig Show At MPMAA — Louise Cook

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association on Lincoln St. is featuring the work of San Francisco artist Helen Ludwig.

Miss Ludwig's talents are seen in a wide variety of media and mood.

There are long scrolls with a definite feeling of oriental influence. Her love for San Francisco is illustrated in crisp water colors with bright color accents here and there. Her use of collage is done with restraint and great skill in combination with water color.

The Montalvo Sculptors from Saratoga are featured at the same time. These small sculptures, in the contemporary manner, are done in stone, marble and wood.

Hospital Receives New Patient Room

The Monterey Peninsula Community Center Auxiliary has presented Community Hospital a check for $2000 as the first payment on a new $6500 pledge for a patient room in the addition of the hospital that is now under construction.

The money was raised through the organization's Thrift Shop in New Monterey.

Presenting the check to Dr. A. Carol McKenney, president of the Board of Trustees of Community Hospital, were Mrs. Edwin J. Trinker, president of Community Center Auxiliary; Ruth Austin, former president and shop manager, and Mrs. Hollis Fisher, treasurer.

The $2000 gift will be matched by an anonymous donor who has offered to give the hospital $1 for every $2 donated by the public until the end of this year. The anonymous donor has pledged up to $100,000, providing $200,000 is raised elsewhere by Dec. 31.

Community Hospital needs $300,000 in order to match a $1,944,000 federal and state grant for the addition which will double the floor space at the hospital. Construction started last month.

In presenting the check to the hospital, Mrs. Trinker explained that her Auxiliary, which has 108 members, also supports the Monterey Child Care Center — a pre-school center for children of working parents, provides a program for the handicapped at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, and supports a Braille transcribers project for the blind.

"And Let Us Cling Like Ivy . . ."

Is it not fitting that in this Thanksgiving season — so reminiscent of our origins — we should be mindful of our heritage and the trust it imposes on us? The price the Pilgrims paid for survival. The bloody feet at Valley Forge. The thunder at the Alamo, Gettysburg, the Argonne, at Midway, Bastogne, Pork Chop Hill, and the DMZ.

Let us be grateful for our heritage, for a little pride is the wellspring of courage. Let us endure unflinchingly whatever sacrifices we are called upon to make to defend our free institutions from the night of communism, which is bent on undermining our faith in ourselves. Let us rely not only on the gold in our vaults, but on the iron in our blood. And let us cling like ivy to the faith of our fathers until, in God's good time, all men are free.

We find this message to be as appropriate today as it was last Thanksgiving when we first published it. In the public interest, First Federal Savings will continue to print this message each Thanksgiving, "until, in God's good time, all men are free".

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

Last year someone wanted a book about soccer, and we couldn't locate one. Now one has come in, so I hope that whoever wanted it is reading this column and will come into the library and ask for this one.

It is SOCCER, INTERNATIONAL GAME, by Howard Liss. This book tells a little of the history of the game, with action pictures included, as well as a little about some of the famous players.

Rules of Soccer

The major part of the book is devoted to the rules of the game, the fundamentals of kicking, passing, dribbling and heading this ball, and a description of the players. A diagram shows the position of each player, with a few paragraphs describing the job of each position, such as forwards, halfbacks, fullbacks and the goalkeeper.

There is a section on soccer strategy and a glossary of soccer terms. As a fan of football, I was interested in reading about the differences in these two games. According to the foreward in this book, new leagues are being formed in America, players from Europe and South America are being acquired by the American teams, and the game is gaining in popularity.

Book of Upsets

Another book for the sports-minded readers (one of my young reviewers tells me this one is tops) is UPSET: THE UNEXPECTED IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS, by Dave Anderson and Milton Lancelot. Dave Anderson is known to me by his two other juvenile books about football players — GREAT DEFENSIVE PLAYERS OF THE NFL and GREAT PASS RECEIVERS OF THE NFL. His style is clear and the anecdotes about each player are humorous.

His new book, as the title indicates, tells of some of the thrilling upsets in sports, such as Bobby Thomson's home run in 1951 which won the pennant for the New York Giants. Basketball, golf, football, tennis, boxing, hockey and skiing thrills are briefly told, but with enough details to describe the event.

Picture Stories

Moving from the sports scene, two picture stories from India are among the new arrivals. The first one is THE STOLEN NECKLACE, written and illustrated by Ann Rockwell.

It is based on a tale from the Jataka, a collection of stories that were told in India more than two thousand years ago. The illustration on the cover attracted my interest and I was not disappointed. It is about a vain monkey who steals a necklace from the princess.

Guilty Monkey

There are so many monkeys in the jungle that a clever plan must be devised to find which one is to blame. The gardener helps the princess by buying cheap beads at the bazaar, and leaving them around where the necklace had been stolen. The monkeys take them and wear them and finally the guilty monkey can stand it no longer. She has to show that hers are more beautiful. She does and is caught by the gardener, who is rewarded by the princess. The illustrations are fresh and colorful and their stylized form captures the feeling of the story.

Hindu Folktale

The other story from India is a folktale, retold and illustrated by Mehlli Gobhai. It tells about Long Howl, a timid jackal, who hides in a barrel of indigo dye because a pack of dogs is chasing him.

When he returns to the forest the other animals do not recognize him and are afraid of him. He sets himself up as their king and all the other animals must kneel when speaking to him. But one night he gives himself away and he is recognized. But then even the other jackals won't let him join them, so he hunts and howls alone. The colors are vivid and the feeling of the illustrations is just right.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

One of the reasons for this column is to bring to the readers of the Pine Cone information on what is going on at Sunset Center.

During the four months that this column has appeared things and events to write about have followed in ever increasing tempo, so that the job of putting together 500 words a week is a pleasure rather than a task.

As an example of the varied activities in progress at Sunset, the following letter from Cole Weston, manager of the Center, is worth sharing with readers of this column.

Dear Jim:

Due to the fact that in some areas there exists the feeling that the Sunset Cultural Center is not being used a great deal, I decided to check on the evening activities of some of our tenants. I toured the Center last Monday night and was pleased to find the following creative cultural forces at work.

1. The Monterey County Symphony was rehearsing in the Theater.

2. Mary Burr was conducting her Ballet class in room No. 13.

3. There was activity in the Film Room of Black Lion Productions, No. 12A.

4. A life drawing class was being conducted in room 4, Carmel Graphics.

5. The Community Theater was having a rehearsal of their new play, "The Roar of the Greasepaint," in room No. 6.

6. The Carmel Photography Center was hanging its new one man show of Don Ross in rooms No. 1 and No. 2.

7. The Scottish Society was conducting their folk dance class in the Cafeteria.

8. The Boy Scouts were having a supervised football game on the North Playfield.

There were at least 150 people involved in varied creative activities at the Center that night.

I think that this sampling of the night time activities at the Center should allay the fears of those who feel that "There is nothing going on at Sunset."

Sincerely
Cole Weston
Manager Sunset
Cultural Center

If you would like to take an active part in one or more of these interesting activities, or would like further information, please call Weston at 624-3996.

Marlinde von Ruhs

Marlinde von Ruhs was kind enough to send a very delightful letter from Mexico City last week. Friends and well wishers of Marlinde will be happy to know that her work has met with great acclaim in the Mexican capitol.

Marlinde was invited as a guest artist from the United States to participate in the special art activities that were sponsored by the Mexican Government during the Olympic Games.

She will be back at her studio in the Center in the near future. Meanwhile she is hard at work at the Galeria, Arte de Coleccionistas, Paseo de La Reforma 325, Mexico 5, D.F., Mexico.

Donald S. Ross

An exhibition of photographs by Donald S. Ross is the current offering at the Friends of Photography. The exhibit will be on view through January 5, 1969. Hours are from 1 to 4 daily except Mondays. Admission is free.

Summer Job Exam Dates Now Set

Congressman Burt L. Talcott today counseled high school and college students to start planning now for next summer's jobs.

Talcott said that each year there are a limited number of opportunities for interesting summer jobs with agencies of the Federal Government. Since these jobs are filled on a merit basis, it is important for interested applicants to apply early. No application postmarked after January 30, 1969 will be accepted.

"Some jobs require eligibility in the Summer Employment Examination, Talcott said. "These include seasonal assistants with the Post Office Department, and jobs common to most Federal Agencies such as typists, stenographers, clerks and engineering or science aides."

The examination will be given in Hanford, Monterey, Salinas, San Luis Obispo and Santa Cruz, on four dates — Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, and Mar. 8.

Federal Agencies will begin making selections after the results of the second test have been processed. Interested applicants can write to me for a copy of 'Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies' or any additional information you may require.

Jobs for which the Summer Employment Examination is not required include those for which a college degree or equivalent experience is needed, so-called blue collar jobs, and certain jobs in the Departments of Agriculture and Interior, such as park ranger and forest technician."

VOTE COUNTER — Larry Sheingold of Carmel, one of 106 Occidental College students who gathered voter results for major television and wire services on election eve, is shown acting as a telephone operator at News Election Service headquarters, Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles. The L. A. center for N. E. S., one of seven across the country, flashed instant vote tabulations to radio, TV and newspapers in 13 western states.

HEDGE TRIMMER OPENING — Lit Ng, left holds the ribbon for Monterey County Supervisor Willard Branson to cut, and the new Monte Mart in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center is officially open. The new market, the fourth in the chain started by Ng only eight years ago, features spacious aisles, a variety of items and outstanding discount prices.

Ecumenical Service For Thanksgiving

Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m. an Ecumenical Community Thanksgiving Service will be held at the St. Philips Lutheran Church of Carmel. The Church is located on the Carmel Valley Road 4½ miles east of Highway 1. This annual Thanksgiving Service is organized and sponsored by the clergy of Carmel.

Clergymen from the following Carmel Churches will participate in the Service: All Saints Episcopal, Carmel Mission Basilica, Carmel Presbyterian, Church of the Wayfarer, Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula and St. Philip's Lutheran Church.

Residents of Carmel and Carmel Valley are invited to attend the service.

The Rev. David Hill of All Saints will bring the Thanksgiving message. The Rev. J. Bernhard Bretheim of St. Philips will be the officiant.

A joint choir under the direction of Mr. C. Eldon Harris will sing two anthems.

Carmel Travelers

(The Rueben Johnson's letters from Europe and the Middle East this week center on island-hopping in the Aegean Sea and the Greek coastline.)

We visited the Greek island of Mykonos, which turned out to be the most pleasant place we visited in Greece.

The quiet peaceful life in this idyllic setting of whitewashed houses and narrow winding streets gave us an opportunity to enjoy the graciousness of the Greek people at its best.

We also visited the island of Delos. It was only a short distance from Mykonos, and was an important center in early times. The island is revered as the birthplace of Apollo.

Today it is only an island of ruins and no habitation.

We traveled next to the Island of Rhodes. Its walls and palace date back to the Crusader period. Today the city of Rhodes is very modern, and has been quite largely oriented to the Swedish and other Scandinavian tourists.

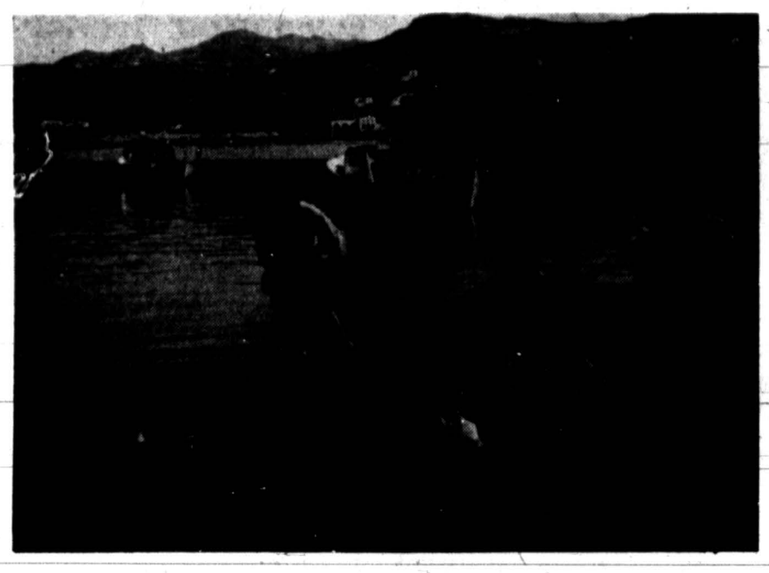

We found that Sweden is carrying on an active propaganda campaign against the new regime in Greece. As a result the businesses in Rhodes were suffering badly from a lack of tourists.

Our month in Greece was most enjoyable and informative. The Greek people are most pleasant to live with. They are happy and outgoing, and extremely friendly, especially when they would discover that we were Americans.

It seems that the Greeks are one people who have not forgotten the many ways that the United States and its people have helped the Greeks in the past. Even though many Greeks are rather poor, they are proud of their rich heritage. They endured untold hardships under Turkish for over four hundred years.

In recent times, the Balkan Wars, World War I, World War II, and the Communist guerrilla warfare of 1945-9 caused great suffering.

Many people in Greece are hopeful that the new regime will bring security and jobs, as well as order. Some are apprehensive about the lack of democratic processes. Present-day Greece has had only a brief history of freedom and democratic government, so it seems to me it has a great deal to learn concerning the responsibilities and difficulties of this type of government.

ANCIENT WAYS — Fishing is the principal occupation on the Greek Island of Mykonos, and is still carried on in much the same manner of the islanders of a thousand years ago. A fisherman pulls in his small net with its meager catch in the quiet harbor of Mykonos.

FAMILY AFFAIR — Everyone helps in the fishing village of the Island of Mykonos. Nets must be repaired, and this family works at the task at the end of the fishing day. The young boy at the left has no choice than to follow his father's and grandfather's fishing trade. A few young men and women manage to escape to Athens, and this is the dream of virtually every youngster on the island.

Lee Darragh

Darragh Named Del Monte Ad, Sales Chief

Expansion of the advertising and sales promotion efforts of Del Monte Properties Company was announced with the appointment of Lee Darragh of Tucson as the firm's new director of advertising and sales promotion.

Darragh succeeds the late Mrs. Gwenn Graham, who died Oct. 26 at her Carmel Valley home.

A. G. Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties, announced that Darragh, 36, will head a department reorganized as a result of the company's pending merger with Wedron Silico Company of Chicago.

The merger will make Del Monte Properties the third largest silica producer in the United States.

Michaud also announced that Ray March, 34, formerly assistant publicity director, has been named manager of public relations, reporting to Darragh.

Darragh will direct national and local programs designed to increase the company's advertising and promotion efforts in real estate leasing and development and sand operations while March will be responsible for public relations and coordinating sports events at Pebble Beach.

Childbirth Film At CHS Dec. 4

"Natural Childbirth," a film featuring Dr. Robert Bradley, will be shown Wednesday, Dec. 14, in the Carmel High School Music Room at 8 p.m.

The public is invited at no charge.

Dr. Bradley, author of "Husband Coached Childbirth" advocates participation by the father and proper prenatal care in preparing for childbirth.

The Childbirth Education League of the Monterey Peninsula, which is sponsoring the film, will serve refreshments.

Also beginning Dec. 4 a new series of prenatal classes will be sponsored by the League.

Mrs. Margot Edwards, R.N., will conduct the classes instructing in diet during pregnancy, prenatal exercises, labor, delivery, breast feeding and the father's role in natural childbirth.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of three small boys, has had extensive obstetric and pediatric nursing experience.

The classes are open to expectant couples.

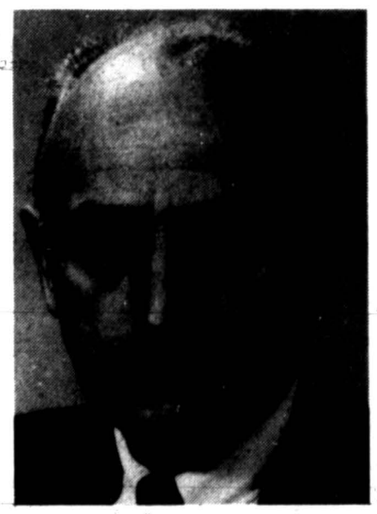

Additional information about the film or the classes may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Robert Armstead, 624-8718.

Stamp Club Inaugurates

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club held its inauguration dinner on Nov. 18 at the Pine Inn, Carmel.

New officers inaugurated were: Bernard Anderson of Carmel, president; George Conn, Carmel, 1st vice president; Walter Cady, Seaside, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Charles Campbell, Carmel, Secretary, and Mrs. Peter Krusi, Monterey, treasurer.

Donald McPherson of the Northern California Philatelic Societies, spoke on his Graf Zepplin stamp collection.

NEW MANAGER — Paul J. Roesch of Carmel has been promoted to manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Del Monte office. Formerly assistant cashier at the Monterey office, Roesch has been with Wells Fargo since 1923. He and his wife, Helen, reside at 11th and Dolores in Carmel.

PURPLE HEART AWARD — Mrs. Gary W. Arnold of Carmel accepts the Purple Heart posthumously awarded her husband who was killed in Vietnam last April. Making the presentation is Col. John N. Knight, assistant chief of staff for operations at Ft. Ord, who also presented Mrs. Arnold the Legion of Merit earned by her Infantry captain husband, who was killed while serving as an advisor to Vietnamese regional and popular forces.

Edgemere Owners Will Appeal Decision on Expansion

Reversal of unanimous decisions by city commissions is rare, but such an action is being sought in an appeal filed this week at City Hall by the owners of the Edgemere Cottages, whose request to increase the size of two of its lodging units while rebuilding and remodeling them, was denied last week by the Carmel Planning Commission.

The appeal will be heard by the City Council at the next regular meeting.

Following the unanimous denial of the Edgemere request by the city planning body, Commission Chairman Fred Keeble appointed an ad hoc committee composed of Commissioners Olof Dahlstrand, Edward Neroda, and Charles McEwen to clarify wording and to spell out the exact meaning of the motel control ordinance under which the commission had acted.

In the Edgemere request, the commission took exception to the proposal to increase building coverage of two units by 290 square feet while rebuilding and remodeling them. Also the commission questioned the appropriateness of kitchen and dining facilities in the two units which Edgemere owners sought to remodel and rebuild, expressing the view that motel units in residential areas should properly be only "places to sleep".

In the ballot argument in which voters were urged last spring to approve the residential-area, motel - control ordinance, the present views of city planning commissioners appear to have substantial backing.

"Without this new law," said the argument to voters who later approved the ordinance, "our residential areas will become increasingly commercialized as more motels creep in and existing motels continue to expand." This ballot argument was signed by two present members of the City Council — Eben Whittlesey and Herbert Blanks — and it is to the City Council that the Edgemere appeal is directed.

ONE-OF-A-KIND HOME VALUES:

1. Our San Antonio home qualifies as a residence, week-ender or top rental with its two bedrooms, two baths, separate dining room, built-in kitchen, with breakfast area, secluded patio and two-car detached garage. Rare value at $67,500.
2. The best purchase on the market today in its category is our completely and professionally renovated Mediterranean. The main home has three bedrooms, two baths, ocean view den and deck, separate dining room and a large living room. The guest quarters are a room and bath attached to the two-car garage. For $87,500, you acquire quality, seclusion, space and security.
3. If you prefer a more distant water view from almost every room, we can provide that and cul-de-sac seclusion from our three-bedroom, two-bath, separate dining room conventional home located for a 180-degree panoramic view for $55,000.
4. Our charming little two-bedroom home on Carpenter with the oak studded front yard and fenced rear yard can be purchased for $28,500.
5. Probably the most underpriced home on the market is our three-bedroom, two-bath, two-story, separate dining room home down on Carmelo on the Point. It is on two lots and is almost completely furnished for $55,000.

ARTIST'S HIDEAWAY!

In Carmel on a winding, tree-shaded lane near the Forest Theatre, we discovered a Normandy-style chalet embodying all of the original Carmel charm that is in such demand today. And only 4 years old.

The large living room has a true beamed cathedral ceiling. One wall features a massive raised-hearth fireplace, with stained-glass style windows on either side. Modern kitchen, dinette, two bedrooms, two baths, and utility room complete the main floor plan. PLUS—

A staircase off the living room leads to a huge studio room overlooking the living room. We feel this truly is another of our famous "Artist's Hideaways." For an appointment to see this unique property call . . .

Well, It's Too Late to Look

if you want to be in your new home by Thanksgiving. But if you want to hang your Christmas stocking on your own Carmel fireplace, there may still be time if you solicit the help of people who really know Carmel and all the possibilities in your price category, who enjoy helping you pick and choose, and who can competently guide your purchase through escrow in time to get the Deed into your stocking (modestly, namely US!)

For instance, we're all excited about a never-before-listed cottage a few steps from the nicest part of the beach in Carmel, but we promised the out-of-town owners we wouldn't show it during the Thanksgiving holiday as they are here with guests. The historic log house we're just listing in the Forest (with a real carriage house on a separate, divisible lot) has no equal in this area. And we still haven't found just the right people for our incredible A-frame built of heavy cedar timbers and native stone on six acres of our loveliest land a few miles down the coast.

Why don't you drop in for a cup of tea and talk over your gift list with us?

LOOKING FOR THE LOVELY MONTEREY TYPE of home? We have a real beauty on two valuable lots one block to the beach. The living room is very handsome with random width floors, open redwood ceiling and a winding stairway to the master bedroom and bath. Two large bedrooms and bath on the main floor and a 20' dining room opening onto sunny patio, plus an outside bedroom and bath. Old rose vines climb the outside. Sound lovely? It really is, and at $65,000, it's RARE!

IF YOU HAVE GIVEN UP the search for your dream home, let us show you a dream of a lot in Rancho Rio Vista. An acre of handsome trees and stunning views for $23,000.

OR HOW ABOUT a gently sloping lot of about 7,000 square feet — convenient to shopping, schools or Monterey, for $13,500? Builders, too, should check this one!
